ALIEN ADDRESS

REPORT MONTH

A proclamation declaring January 1967 as Alien Address Report Month in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts was signed today by Governor John A. Volpe at a ceremony conducted in the Executive Chambers.

In recognition of the importance of complying with the law, Governor Volpe requested all citizens, employees, and officers of the Commonwealth to assist and encourage every alien to report to the nearest Post Office or United States Immigration and Naturalization Service office during the month of January 1967, and complete Form I-53, Alien Address Report Card.

Northeast Regional Commissioner J. Leo Bagley, United States Immigration and Naturalization Service, present during the Proclamation Ceremony, stated that approximately 5,000 individuals acquired United States citizenship during the past year. He invited all immigrant resident aliens eligible for naturalization to apply for citizenship during the coming year. Information regarding citizenship and immigration regulations may be obtained at the following locations:

Room 107-E, John F. Kennedy Federal Building, Government Center, Boston, Mass.

Room 306, Post Office Building, Springfield, Mass.

Coffee Can't Sober

ALA Warns Drivers

BOSTON—A cup of coffee after cocktails could do more harm than good, the Automobile Legal Association (ALA) today warned holiday motorists.

Philip C. Wallwork, ALA safety director, said that once alcohol enters a person's bloodstream, coffee has no sobering effect.

"Motorists who take a few drinks and then have hot coffee for the road may be worse off because they'll have a false sense of security," Wallwork said. "They'll think the coffee will sober them enough so they can drive safely, but they'll be wrong."

The ALA official urged all motorists to think twice before having a few drinks to toast in the New Year.

"The best thing for the road is a safe driver," he said. "If you have to drink, leave the car parked and take public transportation. You'll be safer and other motorists and pedestrians will be safer."

Ensign Kelley, Jr.

Aboard USS Benner

USS BENNER (DD-807) (FHTNC) — Navy Ensign Joseph M. Kelley, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Kelley of 12 Witheridge St., Agawam, is participating in Seventh Fleet operations off the coast of Vietnam aboard the destroyer USS Benner.

The Chevalier-class destroyer will be supporting aircraft carrier operations, conducting search and rescue procedures for downed pilots, performing coastal surveillance and anti-submarine warfare exercises, and will also provide gunfire support to U. S. and Allied ground forces.

The Benner, homeported in Long Beach, Calif., is expected to be on patrol in Southeast Asia for six months.

On Going To College

By A. J. PHAIR

A Series of Articles Dealing With Sources of Financial Aid for College-Bound Persons

In a previous article I discussed the fact that there are many sources of student aid available to those who wish to go to college but are prevented primarily due to a lack of their own funds. Much of this aid is actually going begging and should be applied for by those with serious intentions to go to college.

By way of encouragement to those who would like to acquire a college education, but are not quite sure where to start, let me say this. Among the first of many important steps to take is that of drawing up a definite plan of action. For example, it is up to the individual to decide what his professional goal is to be. Seeking advice from competent sources may help shorten the road to the college of your choice, especially when you are informed ahead of time what requirements you need to meet and how to meet them. Don't select one college—as if it were the only one—and tell yourself that "This is the college for me." Such an utterance usually invites disappointment. Better that you select several dozen colleges or a hundred if necessary and word your letter of application as if your very future depends upon it as it may well do. The difference between success and failure when applying for student aid and/or admission to college is often decided by a good letter of application.

Don't waste time, it is your most valuable asset. Be sure to apply as early as possible for both aid and admission. The wise student applies in December.... most colleges are at that time arriving at some decision as to what their expenditures will be for the coming year. This, of course, includes allowances to be made for financial aid to students. There are many institutions of higher learning who wait as late as April before deciding on how much they are going to allow in their budgets for student financial aid, etc. However, delays are dangerous, better to apply early and be on the safe side.

After having decided on which colleges best fit your needs, obtain a copy of their most recently published catalogue. Study the courses offered closely, but even more closely one should study the

Draft-Law Deadline June 30

Washington

Scores of thousands of men now holding draft deferments will face possible induction next June 30 unless Congress enacts new legislation.

Major portions of the Selective Service Act expire on that date, but draft legislation would not be wiped entirely from the books even if Congress did not act—and there is little doubt that it will extend the law, perhaps in considerably amended form.

A selective-service spokesman explained that the registration process would continue under existing law even if Congress did not act. But no one could be inducted except those who have

(Please Turn To Page 5)

If your motor vehicle is registered for 1966 and 1967, you may attach new plates beginning at noon on December 31 OR you may drive with 1966 plates until noon on January 2 PROVIDED you carry evidence of 1967 registration in the vehicle.

However, if your motor vehicle is NOT registered for 1966 but is registered for 1967, the new plates cannot be attached to the vehicle until midnight, December 31, and they must be on the vehicle if it is going to be on the road January one.

To provide further assistance to motorists who have not yet registered for 1967, all Registry offices will remain open on Saturday, December 31 from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m.

Program Jan. 3

The first 1967 meeting of Community Grange will be held at the Grange home on Tuesday evening, Jan. 3rd. Miss Florence Blish, secretary, is general chairman, assisted by Rachael Williams, in charge of the kitchen. A telephone call from those who are planning to attend would be appreciated by Miss Blish or Elise Bradway, lecturer.

The business meeting will open at 8 o'clock and several items of interest will be discussed. Wesley Thayer will report on the Grange Centennial Year topic of "Grange Ritualism."

Following the meeting Miss Nancy Hiersche of Ludlow, a 4-H club member, will tell of her experiences during a six months visit to India last summer. She was sent as the International Farm Youth Exchange (IFYE) representative from this area and has a most interesting story to tell.

"The outcome of that war," she continues, "and the future of our nation depend as much on our economic strength as our military strength, perhaps more so in the long run. As military spending mounts, we cannot continue to add untold billions to our various other budgets. America's riches are not unlimited, and some sort of balance to our over-all spending will have to come about."

How Long Is A Minute?

Yes, how long is a minute—when you are waiting for the school bus to load its passengers—or to discharge them.

How long is a minute—when you are asked to stop by a youngster on school traffic control to let pupils cross at the cross-walk.

How long is a minute—when you need it to stop when youngsters are chasing each other from sidewalk to street and back again in the distance?

How long is a minute when you have the urge to drive faster to make up for those minutes you lost?

Yes, how long is a minute when you cut out of line into the path of another car.

The minute can be just as long as you make it. It can assure you, and the youngsters traveling to and fro from school on time—safe time.

Or the minute you lose—can be multiplied hundred times over—waiting in the Emergency ward—for the results of the accident resulting from being a minute too late.

How long is your minute?

Marry, Save Money

As if they didn't know it, single men and women are being told that they're getting a raw deal under the Federal income tax.

The word comes from Joseph A. Pechman of the Brookings Institution, who has just made the first complete study of the income tax system since its revision in 1964.

He gets down to cases about the plight of single persons. Unfair to them, he says, is the "split income" plan which lets married couples pay much lower tax rates than the unwed. Husbands and wives can lump their total earnings, then pay the tax as though each earned exactly half.

What the economist seems to be saying is that income tax rules should be made tougher for married couples rather than easier for single persons. There's small comfort in this unless misery loves company.—Miami Herald.

Right Over Wrong

In a college journalism classroom hangs this sign, "If it is right, write it." It symbolizes knowing the difference between right and wrong and acting accordingly.

A Virginia farmer followed this pattern recently, according to the Richmond, Palladium-Item. He refused to accept money from the U. S. Agriculture Department's soil bank program. He had been offered $54.39 an acre to retire a hillside portion of his 1,133 acre farm, but, since the land wasn't productive in the first place, he felt he couldn't accept the offer.

Freedom and liberty were attained in this country by just such men—men who placed their moral convictions above short term gains—men like Washington, Hamilton and Madison, who put their convictions of right over wrong in the documents which gave birth to this great country. Their efforts, and the efforts of millions who have followed, were directed at guaranteeing a full life for all men. The freedom to pursue that full life will endure only so long as a majority of United States citizens accept responsibility for their own welfare and the nation's progress.

Questions and Answers

Q. Who decides what are reasonable charges for physicians' services under medicare?

A. Intermediaries—Blue Shield organizations and private insurance carriers—who serve under contracts with the Federal Government to receive and pay medicare bills, determine what are "reasonable charges." They apply two criteria set out in the law:

1. The customary charges for similar services generally made by the physician, and
2. The prevailing charges in the locality for similar services.

Male Help Wanted

20-30 years old to serve as Office Manager of trade association. Applicant should have interest in public relations activities and have desire to be trained for advancement. Limited travel required. Starting salary $6,000.00 per year. Write P.O. Box 3, Granby, Conn. 06035.

The reasonable charge by a specialist will naturally be higher than the charge for the same service by a doctor who is not a specialist. Also, the reasonable charge may be higher than the customary and prevailing rate if there are special circumstances.

Q. How often do I have to pay the $50 deductible under the doctor bill insurance part of medicare?

A. Just once a calendar year. But if your medical expenses are less than $50 in some year, or if they do not go over $50 until the last three months of a year, the expenses in those last three months can count toward the next year's $50 deductible.

SPORTSMEN'S
CORNER

By Bill Chiba

Ice fishing is the vogue now and I may take up the chilly sport before the season ends. Fish in this frigid weather, save a fortunate few, are as active now as in July.

Hibernation is a strange phenomenon of nature still fraught with a myriad of mysteries. Fish that do slow down their metabolism to the point where death is knocking on the door generally don't do it unless they're forced to.

Ice fishermen wondering why their winter catches are as active as they were in summer generally fail to realize fish are cold blooded creatures. Like reptiles, their body temperature is within a few degrees of their environment. Rather than sleep away the cold months, they generally remain active despite their frigid surroundings.

Fish which live in shallow ponds may find themselves literally imprisoned when these bodies of water freeze from top to bottom. They remain alive but in a dormant state, protected by a thin film of water between their bodies and the ice. However, if the fish itself freezes, the cells die and thus the fish.

Frogs and salamanders will burrow into the mud in streams and lake bottoms as hot weather causes evaporation. The frogs actually hibernate, but will come to life during a heavy rain.

Lungfish also bury themselves in bottom mud, breathing with a unique gas bladder. Their body temperature, like that of the frog, remains about the same as their surroundings, and their metabolism slows down.

The ice fisherman can expect as much of a battle from a four pound trout in the winter time as in hot weather. However, he

CUSTOM TACKLE AT CUT RATE PRICES

Not everyone can afford to buy a custom-built fishing rod, but everyone can afford to own one — provided he assembles it himself.

That special measure of satisfaction found in possessing a finely crafted piece of equipment is available to anyone who devotes a few hours to the task, and at less cost than a comparable model purchased across the counter.

Now, with winter close at hand, is the time to start planning the project, say the fishing experts at Mercury outboards.

With the advent and refinement of modern fiberglass, custom rod making need no longer terrify the do-it-yourselfer. Excellent kits of components are available through sporting goods stores and mail order catalogs. You can select styles to meet every fishing need from ultra light spinning to heavy boat rods. Prices usually range from $7 to $15 and include everything but the labor.

The initial step in constructing a rod is to thoroughly familiarize yourself with instructions and all parts.

Depending on the type of rod chosen, cork grips and reel seats go on first. Handles for casting and saltwater rods are usually already made.

Position guides according to the maker's marks and wrap them on with thread, completing the job with an easily learned whip finish.

The tip is attached by dropping a dab of melted ferrule cement on the end and quickly slipping on the guide.

With some added wrappings for decoration and several applications of varnish, you have a rod to be proud of.

Sound easy? It is, claim the Mercury lads. The next thing you know, you'll be mixing components — matching spinning blanks with casting handles or any of several other combinations for special purposes.

Who knows, the first rod may come so easy you may decide to start building your own Christmas gifts.

SQUARE DANCE

By June and Elmer Roosa

Today being the day after Christmas (as written) the let-down or relief is like a blow to the solar-plexus. It sort of takes your breath away and leaves you a bit confused. We will recover, no doubt, as we always have before—just in time to usher in the New Year.

A great many of us will be doing that at dances, others at private parties and still others in the relative quiet of their own homes. (If there are enough relatives, there is no quiet). Seriously, we've had a good year here in our own little town of Agawam and it makes us very grateful that we haven't been among the accident reports or statistics. Our health is pretty fair and we look forward to our friends and activities in 1967 with hopeful pleasure.

The dances at Robinson Park School and the ones at Granger School will break the pattern of sameness even further than did the idea of having a year of "guest callers." Change is the best device for keeping a fresh outlook, so the Promenaders Square Dancers ought to be expecting a fine New Year of dancing and plenty of lively fun — See you all in 1967!

Daily Brain Twisters

Just reading the headlines in the newspapers for one week is enough to make a Solomon throw up his hands. Each day you are faced with headlines about a major war in Viet Nam. You may have a son in it, and you don't know what to think.

Next comes inflation. Different interests blame the other fellow for rising costs. Financial authorities state, it is essential to restrict easy money policies. Then, we read that the country needs 2 million new housing units every year and is only getting 1.5 million and that high interest rates are retarding building.

Next, the individual is urged to restrict his spending to cool down the economy, while full employment is urged to provide jobs. And, to top the confusion, it is generally forecast that taxes on individuals and industry must be raised to bail out the official spenders. As a private citizen and taxpayer, you help foot all the bills.

These are but a few of the brain twisters that appear daily.

TODAY'S AGRI-FACT

To keep the color in your Christmas Poinsettias, do not allow them to be exposed to light for too long a period each day. Even a street light shining through the window will cause this plant to lose its color more rapidly, since it takes on color only when daylight hours are short. In the spring, the plant, pot and all, can be planted in a sunny garden spot and watered regularly. Pinching back the tall shoots to about half will develop a bushy growth. The plant should be brought back inside in the fall before the cold weather sets in again.

Massachusetts Nears All-Time Highway Death Toll

Registrar Richard E. McLaughlin announced that, with the death of Mrs. Aniela Przybyla, aged 74, in Lowell last night, Massachusetts had sustained its 844th motor vehicle fatality of 1966, thereby tying the total number killed during the entire year of 1965.

Registrar McLaughlin said that this would establish 1966 as the most disastrous year on the highways in a generation and the second worst year in the history of Massachusetts. Only 1934—the first year after repeal of prohibition—produced a greater number of road deaths with 953 recorded during that year, he said.

McLaughlin pointed out that the last 10 days of the year extending through the long Christmas-New Years holiday period — is usually the most dangerous period of all and said it was not unlikely that the 1966 death toll would reach or even exceed 900.

The Registrar particularly emphasized the dangers of drinking and driving and urged drivers to leave their vehicles at home and to use public transportation if they expected to be involved in holiday merry-making and drinking.

Drinking caused the vast majority of fatal traffic accidents in Massachusetts through November, said Safety Commissioner Leo L. Laughlin in a statement Tuesday.

Blood tests at the State Police Laboratory showed that 55 of 73 operators killed in single-car accidents were impaired by alcohol; 24 drivers of 41 killed in two-car accidents were impaired; 17 pedestrians of 35 killed by motor vehicles were impaired; and five of six motorcyclists killed were impaired. Impairment consists of .1 percent of alcohol in the blood.
